It Should be Done.

The Public Square is one vast mud hole and a lot of money is bound to be spent for repairs, and that quickly. Now, why not make the Park ten feet wider all around, put an asphalt pavement on the outside and then pave the Square with vitrified brick? This can be done for very little more than what a coat of the right kind of rock will cost, and when once fixed it is done for a lifetime. Think about this before whining "It can't be done." Its easier and cheaper to do things right.

Officers Chosen.

Lancaster Lodge, 104, Free and Accepted Masons, held their annual election last week. Louis Landram was re-elected master, Jacob Joseph, senior warden and J. S. Haselden, junior warden. R. Kinnaird was re-elected secretary, and David Ross treasurer, M. E. Prewitt, steward and tyler. The master appointed T. J. Hatcher senior deacon, and David Ross treasurer, M. E. Prewitt, steward and tyler. The lodge is in fine shape financially, and much interest is being taken in its meetings.

Sleep Producer.

Editor Walton, of the Stanford Journal, has made a discovery which warrants to produce sound sleep quicker than the average temperance lecture, or home talent show. He says: "Commence with shaking the thumb of your right hand, then the little finger of the same hand, then the little toe of the right foot, the great toe of the left foot, the little toe of the same foot, then the little finger of the left hand, the thumb of the same hand and so around and around again in the same way, until nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep, comes quickly and surely to your relief."

Avoid Taking La Gripe.

The dreaded "gripe" is again abroad in the land, and in some places is quite prevalent, and it seems to be extending in all directions. Therefore it becomes important to know how best to meet it. Dr. Feeney of the New York board of health gives some hints as to the best way to treat grip. He says: "Keep good hours. Eat nourishing food. Keep all parts of the body warm, particularly the feet. Avoid dampness and draughts. Keep away from persons known to have the disease." It would seem from this last direction that he regards this disease as contagious or infectious. These directions commend themselves to common sense.

For Another Year.

Mrs. U. D. Simpson tells THE RECORD she has rented the Mason Hotel for another year and will continue to keep the reputation of the house up to its present high standing. She is thankful to the public for the liberal share of patronage received during the past year and will strive to merit a continuation of same.

Why This Thushess!

A street fair disposed of a two-horse wagon load of merchandise in front of the Court House county court day. It's hard to see why people will be gulled by such fakes when they can buy genuine goods at far more reasonable prices at their home stores. Patronize merchants you know to be honorable, upright business men and you will never have cause to regret it.

Pretty Calendar.

THE RECORD acknowledges, with thanks, a pretty calendar sent out by the Berkshire Life Insurance Co., of which Mr. George T. Mason, of Chicago, is an agent.

For Sale or Rent.

My eight room Dwelling House on Campbell street, Lancaster, Ky. Possession given 1st day of January 1899. Address, I. C. Rucker, Paint Lick, Ky. jan-6-tf

Moved.

Mr. T. S. Elkin has moved his meat market into the Marrs corner, at Lexington street and Public Square. He is better prepared than ever to furnish choice meats, groceries etc., at lowest prices.

The beans in the jar at Jennings's store were counted Dec. 27th, by H. W. Batson, Bob Ferrell and J. B. Jennings. The jar contained 3,281, the nearest guess was 3,278 which was made by C. W. Frisbie.

FRIDAY December 23 1898.

OPINIONS as to Hobson's kissing the girls is about evenly divided. Some say he was right, some say wrong. The world will continue to turn, however, and we hope the papers will find something else to talk about.

COL. DICK KNOTT, editor of the Louisville Post, has very foolishly undertaken to rumple W. P. Walton's feathers. The Louisville editor will find that "W. P." has the longest, sharpest spurs of any rural rooster he has ever jumped against.

OUR at Pittsburg a young woman is reported to be lying critically ill from the effects of being hugged too hard. There is certainly something wrong with that woman's "constitution and by-laws," as Sam Jones says. Hugging a girl to death would be like drowning a fish in a tub of water.

MRS. ISABEL MALLON, whose name de plume, "Bab," is familiar to all newspaper readers, is dead. We are sorry that "Bab" was called upon to cross to the pearly gates, but monstrous glad her two or three columns of nonsense will appear in the daily papers no more. Bab, like Talmage, said all she had to say many years ago.

We heard of more swear-offs this New Year than for some time past. Here's hoping all will stick, but our experience is that New Year's vows are not worth a counterfeit darn. If a fellow thinks he is bound to do or not to do a thing, it is constantly preying upon his mind. Say you are "resting" and you will find it lots easier to quit a habit entirely. You know the scripture about stolen sweets, etc.

AFTER 400 years Spain has surrendered control of Cuba, and the red and yellow flag is at last removed from all the West. The Stars and Stripes now wave over Havana, from the palace, from stern Morro Castle, from grim Cabanas fortress and from all other public buildings. The ceremonies incident to the transfer of the island from Spanish to American control were carried out according to programme and without a hitch. Tearfully Capt. Gen. Castellanos bade adieu to his comrades; fervently he grasped the hands of his former enemy, the Cuban, and cordially shook the hand of his victor, the American. Thus did Spain pass from the New World; thus did the United States mark the end of another victorious war. On the stroke of noon, to the strains of the Spanish Royal March by an American band, down came the flag of Spain. Directly afterwards, at 12:04 o'clock, up went the Stars and Stripes to the music of the "Star Spangled Banner," and on the birth of a new year came to Cuba its first breath of freedom. Directly after the ceremonies Capt. Gen. Castellanos left the palace, and, escorted by Americans, embarked for Matanzas, leaving Maj. Gen. Brooke Governor of Cuba.

At a reception in the palace salon after the official ceremonies, many Cubans and Spaniards who intend to remain in Cuba paid their respects to Gen. Brooke and promised allegiance to the United States. The Cuban Generals present assured the United States Military Governor that they would do everything in their power to help restore the island to a condition of peace and prosperity.

"Big" Rice's Dinner.

It was the editor's good fortune to attend the birthday dinner of his good friend, Col. Andy J. Rice last week. The date is familiar to Mr. Rice's friends and every year a crowd gather to enjoy a square meal and wish this clever man well. Col. Rice has lived in Garrard nearly all his life, and for the past forty years has resided on his fine farm in Lower Garrard. He has a large family and is one of the most widely-connected men in the county. He is a fine business man, and as honest, upright a gentleman as one ever meets with. He was sixty-six years old last week, and we hope he will be spared to pass many more milestones on the journey of life.

KIND WORDS.

From the Press Boys About our Souvenir Addition.

Editor Louis Landram this week issued a souvenir edition of the Lancaster RECORD. It was the largest and handsomest newspaper ever published in Garrard county and reflected great credit upon the editor and his force. This issue is filled with many half-tone cuts of leading citizens and business houses, and the columns are brimful of interesting reading matter and spicy ads. Mr. Landram's untiring efforts to give his readers an up-to-date weekly deserves liberal patronage.—Danville Advocate.

The Christmas edition of the Lancaster RECORD surpasses any we have seen. Typographically and otherwise, it is a triumph of which Editor Landram should feel proud.—Richmond Pantagraph.

The Lancaster RECORD is a thing of beauty and will prove a joy forever to the friends of those who are pictured and written up, as well as to all who want to be posted about the old town and her people past and present. It cost a pile of money to get out an edition like that and Editor Louis Landram should not only receive great credit for it, but lots of cash.—Stanford Journal.

Capt. Louis Landram, editor of the RECORD, is being congratulated on his souvenir issue and he richly deserves it, as it was the largest and best ever issued in this city, and contains many new and readable features, besides many splendid illustrations and sketches of men and public buildings.—Lancaster Correspondent to Interior Journal.

The Lancaster RECORD's holiday edition was truly meritorious, an era in Lancaster's history. It contained half a hundred nice cuts and eight pages of interesting matter. Hereafter minor events will no longer be spoken of as happening before or after Letcher Owlsley beat Clell Johnson, but before or after the Illustrated CENTRAL RECORD.—Richmond Climax.

The Lancaster RECORD brought out a "Souvenir Edition" last week and it was well deserving of praise.—Livingston Colonist.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill.

R. Dillon.

Miss Clarence Arnold closed her school here on Friday before the holidays, and has returned to her home near Bryantsville, much to the regret of a certain young gentleman here.

Mrs. Herod Ray gave an elegant dinner on the 27th ult., in honor of the birth day of her son's wife, Mrs. Reeder Ray. Music, feasting and a good time generally were the features of the day, and the 35 guests present left for their homes wishing the fair young wife many happy returns of her birth day.

I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy to all who suffer from pains in the stomach," says Mr. Milt McKinley, editor of the Rawson (Ohio) Herald. "Until I used this remedy it was at times, impossible for me to be in my office, owing to attacks lasting from one to two days. By taking it as soon as the first symptoms of the attack are felt, I no longer suffer this unpleasant sickness." For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist. 1m

Has been Organized in this City. All indications Good for New Building.

That hustling, earnest, pushing young minister, Henry N. Faulconer, has succeeded in establishing in Lancaster what we firmly believe will be the greatest blessing the town has ever had. He went to the young men of the town and laid before them the many social, healthful and, best of all, spiritual advantages to be derived from the Young Men's Christian Association. Those talked to grasped the idea and, as a result, thirty young men met in the Masonic Hall Friday night to perfect the organization. G. Bright Swinebroad was selected temporary chairman, and Louis Landram temporary secretary. Rev. Faulconer again stated the plan, and the following were unanimously chosen as permanent officers: Henry Faulconer, president; Kenneth Postel, vice-president; John E. Stormes, secretary and W. H. Kinnaird, treasurer. A committee was appointed to arrange for place of next meeting, several enthusiastic addresses were made and the meeting adjourned with prayer by Prof. Postel.

These organizations have been put on foot at other towns, but, after a time, have fallen through.

To keep the interest up, and hold the Association together, it is the intention of the young men to erect a building.

Now this sounds like most too big an undertaking, but it will be done.

Dr. Kinnaird offered to donate the lot, where his office now stands, and five hundred dollars in cash.

His only consideration is that he be allowed an office in the building.

A young gentleman, who can do so and never miss the money, says he will give one thousand dollars.

We know another party who will give five hundred dollars.

Now this has come unsolicited.

When aid is asked, it is safe to say enough will be subscribed to put up one of the best buildings in the state.

It is the intention to have a library, large reading and lecture room, gymnasium and bath rooms.

A janitor will be regularly employed to look after the house.

The young men have absolutely no place to go at night or Sunday afternoon, and in ninety-nine out of every one hundred cases they get into bad habits by loafing in places which are far from being Sunday Schools or Prayer Meetings.

The library will be kept supplied with choice literature, the gymnasium and bath rooms open at all times, and any young man will be perfectly free to use them.

Religious services will be held every Sunday afternoon, and every member will have a chance to take part.

It will be the stepping stone to going to work in one's church.

The average young man, while he feels that "some day" he will settle down and attain an interest in church matters, yet he shrinks from the idea of appearing in public.

One of the chief objects of this order will be to "ease up" to the point where a young fellow will be qualified and, most of all, willing to take part in church affairs.

So far, about fifty have signed their intentions to go into the Association and we never saw anything start out with more favorable prospects.

We want to say here that this organization is not only for the town folks, but any young man in the county is welcome to come, and they are wanted.

Another thing. Some may think they are too "worldly" to go into this association.

Dispel that idea, young fellow.

The object is to get hold of "worldly" men, purify them first socially, and bodily, then work on him spiritually. To put it in other words:

If you want to get straightened out to live an honorable, upright life, this is the channel to get up to that point.

The first meeting will be Sabbath afternoon at 3 p. m. in the Odd Fellows hall.

Prof. Postel will be leader.

Benefits; Religious, Intellectual, Social and Physical.

We want to meet with the club organized by Dr. McKee for our Social, Musical and Intellectual development.

This will meet twice each month and will not interfere with the Y. M. C. A. duties or pleasures, but will be an impetus of great good and success.

Remember that character is the thing that stands for time and eternity.

Then let us begin at once to initiate it.

Oh! with what delight we shall hail such a building.

Come there with your contributions and build a monument to sin and idleness and that shall stand for the good of others long after we have gone to the grave where we can never again benefit the world in which we live.

When you have a bad Cold.

You want the best medicine that can be obtained, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy.

You want a remedy that will count act any tendency toward pneumonia.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only medicine in use that meets all of these requirements. This remedy is famous for its cures of bad colds thro-out the United States and in many foreign countries. It has many rivals, but, for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds, stands without a peer and its splendid qualities are everywhere admired and praised. For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist. 1m

Mr. Harry Beard, representing the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York, has been in the city for several days and joined the party to Crab Orchard Springs Monday evening. Mr. Beard is an excellent young fellow and has made many friends here.

Rev. Ira Parton has moved to town with his family to get the advantage of our Graded School. He has purchased property of J. R. Hill in the Baker addition. Rev. Parton is a good preacher and has charge of some of the largest churches in Lincoln county.

Misses Elsie Palmer and Annie Higginbotham, are visiting the Misses Newland, in Stanford.

Misses Allie and Mary Anderson gave an elegant dinner to a number of friends Tuesday evening.

Misses Mollie and Inona Douglass, of Versailles, are the guests of T. J. Hammonds and family.

Miss Sallie Buchanan, of Campbellsville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. McVurry.

Dr. Pipes and Mr. Johnson, of Moreland, visited friends in and around Lancaster Saturday and Sunday.

When Lancaster folks set their heads at making any undertaking a success, they most always accomplish their object. The young men have been studying for some time as to the best entertainment to give their lady friends during the holidays. Finally a grand ball was decided upon, but, as there was no place in town in which to give it, they concluded to charter a special coach and go by railhead to the famous old Crab Orchard Springs.

Monday, at noon, a great crowd of young people, accompanied by several couples of married folks, boarded the noon train, and by two o'clock were safely housed in the handsome "Brick" at the springs. Saxton's band, of eight men, met the crowd at Rowland. Miss Host, Gus Hofman, assisted by his charming wife, spread one of the finest five o'clock dinners we ever sat down to, and it was greatly appreciated by the merry party, judging from the way the dainty edibles disappeared. The dining rooms and tables were beautifully decorated with holly and evergreens, which, with the snowy linen, pretty dishes and polished silver, made a sight lovely to behold.

The largest dining hall was prettily decorated with flags and evergreens and was brilliantly lighted. The steam heaters made the entire building comfortable, notwithstanding the fact that outdoors the mercury in the thermometer was scorching in the bottom of the tube.

Promptly at half-past six, the doors of the immense dining hall were thrown open and the merry dancers were soon lost in the dreamy waltz of frolicsome two-step.

Saxton's music is always fine, but on this occasion he fairly out-did himself and each number was heartily enjoyed. His orchestra is, as a pretty girl expressed it, "Divine," and would make even the sour-faced old hypocrites (who sit for hours gassing about dancing) want to cut the pigeon wing. We hear another party say Saxton's music simply picks one up and makes him dance. There's a great deal of truth in the last statement, for even The Record man's old, rusty joints began to twitch when "Sax" would break forth with "Dixie" or "Old Kentucky Home."

The dancing was kept up until twelve o'clock when the party returned to the special train, getting home much earlier than they would have done had the hop been given at home.

We will say for the benefit of the old gossips, that not a single boy had a drink, nor was anything done which will furnish food for the tattlers. We never saw a better behaved or happier crowd, and all will remember the occasion with great pleasure. Those present were Misses Jessie Cook, Sue

The Courier-Journal's review of the leaf tobacco market is summed up as follows: Sales have fallen off, up to account of the half crop of 1897, to the smallest figure since 1888. Prices are much lower than last year, but the value of the low grades have been well maintained, so that the returns are larger than might have been expected, and the average per bushel is ahead of the 1897 record. The new crop, both of Burley and dark, is large, but is not a record breaker. The Burley crop has been badly damaged, but the dark is to have grown in fifteen years and commands good prices. The market promises to be better after the half days.

HISTORY OF LANCASTER UNION.

The Womans Christian Temperance Union is doubtless more widely known than any other organization of women in this, and possibly in any other country.

It was organized in 1874, one year after the great temperance Crusade, which swept over the land. This crusade, at the time, was denounced in bitterest terms by its foes, and looked upon with suspicion by friends; but time has proven the justice of the crusade's cause and methods. Desperate diseases demand desperate remedies.

Time had come to act, and the women singing, "Give to the winds thy fears; Hope and be undismayed," went forth from their own bright fire sides, to face scathing criticism and bitter abuse; yet knew not themselves how great was the tower to be erected on the foundations which they were to lay. For the "Crusade" could not last always, and out of it grew its "Sober second thought," the W. C. T. U., which, although an organization of less than twenty-five years existence, numbers its members by hundreds of thousands, and carries on forty departments of work along moral and social lines.

But not content with home work alone, "Round the world missions" were sent by our National organizations to every continent on the globe, and to the islands of the seas to educate and organize. A world's W. C. T. U. was the result, and now many other countries are bound to our own by white ribbon bands, which have indeed "belted the globe."

A delegate from California, at the recent St. Paul Convention illustrated the aggressive spirit of this organization when she urged that her own state be the next meeting place of the Convention, and added as a pleasure that as unions would soon be organized in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, California would be the center of the nation, and of national temperance work, and therefore the proper place to hold the Convention.

The death of Florence E. Willard, for nineteen years president of the National, was the severest blow the organization has ever had to meet.

It is needless to eulogize in this short sketch, a woman, for whose death the flags at our national capital were hung at half mast. Her loss is inestimable, but her work will go on. Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, the newly elected president, is a woman of most noble qualities, and will doubtless win the devotion of the followers whose banner she holds aloft, and inspire in them fresh courage and zeal.

In 1885 Mrs. Lucy A. Neild, organized in Lancaster the first union of Garrard county. Regular meetings have been held weekly from that time and much good work has been done in many departments. Seed has been sown, through scientific, temperance instruction, medal contest, loyal temperance legions, and in other ways which will doubtless some day spring up and bring forth fruit.

During the existence of this union, temperance issues have at different times come before the people for settlement, and though not empowered with the privileges of the ballot, it is doubtless largely due to the labors of these Christian women that the open saloon is no longer a menace to the boys of our town.

Five presidents have stood at the head during its existence: Mrs. Fowle, Mrs. Yancey, Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. Gill. The present officers are, Mrs. Gill, president; Mrs. Farra, Rec. Secretary; Mrs. Royston, Cor. Sec'y; Mrs. Patterson, Treasurer.

The union stands with open doors, eager to welcome, regardless of creed or denomination, all who will enter its ranks, and engage in the warfare for pure lives, unclouded brains, and Home Protection.

The Hatchet Buried.

Mr. M. D. Hughes and X. Y. Z. met a few days ago for the first time, after their estrangement over the English Sparrow business. They stood and scowled at each other for a few minutes, then each by a quick, convulsive movement carried his hand toward the inevitable, proverbial, hip-pocket, and two very valuable lives might have been lost then and there, but for the interference of Charlie Poincexter, of Marcellus, Kentucky. Mr. Hughes said that X. Y. Z. had given away his patient scheme for the destruction of the English Sparrow, and X. Y. Z. acknowledged the corn. But Poincexter, threatened to have them both turned out of the church, and said, "not being a lawyer, I know better. Lawyers ought to know better but it seems they do not. The placing of two wires in juxtaposition, so as to destroy life by throwing on an electric current is exceedingly ingenious, a was the placing of stuffed sparrows upon those wires to act as "decoy ducks" to speak.
